The Global EMBA is a program that improves the skills and knowledge of decision makers, and gives them a global perspective by incorporating trips to prestigious business schools in three key regions of the world (USA, Europe and Asia) to the program.

April, 2014. INCAE Business School celebrated its 50 years as the leading business school in Latin America with the launch of new modules of its Global EMBA program, at an event on April 24th in Lima, Peru. This was the second activity of the anniversary celebration in the region.

Along with its anniversary, INCAE celebrated in Peru the opening of modules for the Global EMBA program for professionals with more than five years of experience. This program includes modules in Lima, at INCAE's Campuses, and trips to business schools in the U.S., Spain and China, which will provide the students with the necessary tools to make their companies more competitive in their markets and globally.

"INCAE Business School celebrates its 50th anniversary as the leading business school in Latin America that receives professionals and transforms them into ethical leaders with vision and the ability to change their environment positively. Today we added our new study modules in Peru to the Global EMBA, offering international training and experience to compete globally, "said Arturo Condo, President of INCAE.

The Global EMBA actively promotes the integral development of the countries according to the business context of the XXI century. The program consists of 17 one-week modules, which provide expertise in advanced management, ethics and corporate social responsibility, women's leadership, among others.
This program is designed to provide participants an interactive and efficient learning; enriching the experience, knowledge and temperament of a modern leader, with tools and new approaches and the requirements of a faculty that will train for decision-making; this without interrupting the responsibilities with their work-place and families.

During the activity, INCAE’s President, Arturo Condo, spoke on "Productivity in Latin America: diversity, sustainability and globalization". The schools also recognized founders and graduates of the first Master's program for their invaluable contribution to strengthen the institution and its position as the best business school in Latin America.

With 50 years of experience, INCAE Business School has offered more than 50 full time MBA programs, more than 20 Executive MBA programs and more than 100 executive programs in the region. INCAE has been rated in recent years as the best business school in Latin America and has been recognized to be part of the top 10 business schools in the world in Corporate Strategy and Economics.
